PREMIER FINANCIAL ADVISOR GROUP EARNS PRESTIGIOUS FORBES HONOR

Bosch Financial, Member of Independent Financial Partners, Enjoys "Top 50 Wealth Managers" Award

TAMPA, Fla., May 14, 2013 – Bosch Financial recently announced that its Registered Investment Advisory firm, Independent Financial Partners ("IFP"), has been named one of Forbes Magazines' "Top 50 Wealth Managers – Giant RIA's" for largest Registered Investment Advisors in the nation. The award, given every year, ranks RIA's based on total assets under management. IFP ranked 39th overall and second for Florida-based companies in the national competition.

"This type of recognition is one of the reasons why we are proud to be part of Independent Financial Partners," said Edward J. Bosch, Jr., LUTCF, AIF, and Financial Advisor at Bosch Financial. "IFP provides all the resources and guidance we need to build our independent business, successfully meeting the financial needs of our clients."

IFP has $3.36 billion in client assets under of management and the firm continues to grow with remarkable speed as more advisors see the benefits of going independent, especially with the support of a nationwide, established network.

"We created our network to support independent advisors and our model has been very successful," said William Hamm, Jr., CFA, CFP®, CLU, and CEO of Independent Financial Partners, "We are pleased to have successful producers like Bosch Financial as members of IFP, and look forward to partnering with more top-tier advisors to our network."
